SOCIETY LEADER A THIEF

On: of Oregon's Four Hundred Caught in the Act.

Detective Who Had Been Watching Her for Some Time, Saw Her Picking Another Woman's Pocket.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 22.—Mrs. William C. Jones, thirty-two years old, prominent in church and society circles, was arrested the other night in the Oregon Industrial Exposition building and charged with picking pockets. Mrs. Jones was arrested at Machinery Hall, within fifty feet of the spot where she was seen to pick a woman's pocket of a purse by a detective and several other persons.

She is believed to be the person who has been relieving persons of their purses and watches ever since the opening of the big fair, the forty odd purses and watches reported by their owners to the exposition officials as stolen being placed to her credit.

Detective Day had his eye upon Mrs.
Jones when he saw her brushing her hands along a woman's skirts to ascertain if they had purses in their pockets. When the detective stopped her in Machinery Hall and placed her under arrest Mrs.
Jones gasped out: "Why, man, you're crazy!" and at the same moment the purse the detective had seen her take not a moment before fell to the floor, striking the detective's foot.

"No, I'm not, ma'am," answered the detective, and, picking up the purse she had just dropped, he said: "I saw you take this, and have followed you around for several nights, and know where you have taken others."

On the way to the station Detective Day said to her: "I wish you would return the purse you took from a poor woman from the country with $40 in gold in it last Saturday night, as can be proved by the gold."

"I never took it," said Mrs. Jones, "but I will make good all the losses that have been sustained at the exposition since it opened if you will drop this."

A trap was deliberately laid for her by providing a woman with a marked pocketbook, and Mrs. Jones walked into it and took the marked purse. A week previous to her arrest Day is positive he saw her take another purse, but not having any corroborative evidence he was deterred by the woman's prominence from making an arrest until he had a better opportunity to make a case.

Mrs. Jones's residence was visited and two gold watches, $60 in gold, several purses and a certificate of deposit for $50 were found. One of these watches tallies identically with the description furnished of one stolen the early part of the fair.

NEW CEDAR POINT LIGHT

Will Soon Flash Its Warning to Chesapeake Sailors.

KEEPER HAS BEEN NAMED

It Will Flash a Red Light Every Five Seconds, and a Fog Bell Will Sound Its Warning When It Is Needed—Another New Lighthouse at Fishing Point.

One week from tonight, if the expectations of the Treasury officials are realized, mariners on Chesapeake Bay will be assisted in the navigation of that dangerous water by the newly established light house at Cedar Point. On the same date the new light at Fishing Point, Assateague Island, Va., will flash out its first warning to seafarers.

Acting Secretary of the Treasury Hamlin yesterday appointed Benjamin F. Soy, who has had experience at various stations, to be keeper of the Cedar Point light at an annual salary of $350. Simultaneously with this appointment was presented the report of the superintendent of construction of the new lighthouse. The structure is complete and ready for occupancy. The painters put the finishing touches on exterior and interior last Saturday.

The lighting apparatus has been placed in position, and will soon be in working order. The Cedar Point light will guard a part of the Chesapeake coast which has long been a menace to mariners. The building is located at the south side of the entrance of the Patuxent river. The light will be of what is known in technical light-house parlance as the fourth order.

WILL FLASH RED.
It will flash red every five seconds, and will be shown from a black lantern surmounting a square white tower which rises above the corner of the roof of a red brick dwelling.

The geographical location of the light, as it is desired to be known by mariners, is:
Latitude, north 38.17 (deg.); longitude, west 76.22 (deg.). The bearings and distances of prominent objects are: Drum Point light-house, north by west 3.8 west, 2.7 miles; Cove Point lighthouse, north 1.4 west, 5.4 miles.

The guardship of this point has been made complete by the establishment of a fog bell in connection with the light station. The bell tower stands about fifteen feet south-easterly from the lighthouse. It is a square, wooden structure, painted white, and the large bell which is mounted in it is struck by machinery every five seconds during a fog.

The lighthouse is built in the most substantial manner. The best Georgia pine was used in the caisson and the finest grade of oak in the construction of the wooden structure in connection with the brick, which is the most conspicuous material in the building.

The part of the building used as the keeper's residence is plain, but tastefully arranged, and insures the greatest comfort for the family which is to occupy it.

FINISHED FOR PROTECTION.
Sealed bids for the construction of the Cedar Point lighthouse were called for by a captain of Engineers, United States army, August 20 of last year, and closed on the 24th of September. The completion of the building has, therefore, been brought about in good time. The new station is regarded as a valuable addition to the coast warning stations in the East.

The new lighthouse at Fishing Point, Assateague Island, has its foundations in about one-half foot of water, means low tide and presents a very different appearance from the Cedar Point light.
The Fishing Point light will illuminate the entire horizon, and will show a continuous red light.

The structure consists of a post with an inclined ladder reaching to the top, and an elevated walk thirty-two feet long extending from the foot of the ladder to the center of the bell. The structure is painted light gray.

The approximate geographical position of the light, as taken from chart No. 129, of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, will be: Latitude, north, 37.52 (deg.); longitude, west, 75.21 (deg.).

INNOCENT MAN ARRESTED.

Sandy Brooke Released After Twenty-Four Hours in Confinement.
"Sandy Brooke," sang out Clerk Pettis in Judge Miller's police court this morning.

"Here I is, boss, but I ain't guilty," replied a slender colored man from the prisoners' pen. "Youse got de wrong man dis time."

Clerk Pettis read the warrant. It charged Sandy Brooke, who resides at No. 1240 Twenty-seventh street, with carrying a revolver, and snapping it at a fleeing colored man.

Henry H. Kessler, of No. 2826 M street, the prosecuting witness, was called to the stand. He promptly stated that the prisoner in the dock was not the man who had been killed through the negligence of an employee of the company, they should determine the damages only as to the amount of pecuniary value the child was to his parents during his minority, it being held that damages could not be awarded for sentimental value.

It is generally conceded that under the instructions the verdict is very fair and honorable.

CAPTAIN LOST HIS SHIP.

While He Was Ashore It Parted Cables and Disappeared.
Menominee, Mich., Oct. 22.—Capt. Edward McCoy, who arrived here yesterday, told a most peculiar tale of losing a ship.

He commanded the schooner Emily Taylor, which was bound from Escanaba to Chicago, and on Sunday the trouble commenced by the steering gear giving out.

The anchor was let go off Washington harbor, and the captain and crew went ashore to get a tug, leaving the vessel riding at her anchor. On Monday when they returned to the spot no vessel was in sight.

The schooner was then sighted in the heavy southeaster on Monday, and that she foundered.

The Taylor was owned by H. Johnson, of Two Greys, Wis., and measured fifty-five tons. Capt. McCoy is on his way to Green Bay.

BASEBALL IN THE FUTURE

President Young Talks of an International League.

America, England and Australia Will One Day Compete for the Championship of the World.

President Nick Young of the National Professional Baseball players is of the opinion that not many years will pass before an international organization will be formed in which teams representing America, England and Australia will compete for the world's championship. He is quoted as saying in an interview:

"Although an arrangement by which baseball players could play in Australia during the winter and tour this country during the summer appears visionary, there will be a future generation who will be able to witness our national pastime played on an international basis between America, Australia and England.

"This subject was discussed with me by a European agent of a prominent firm not long ago, and he assured me that the development of the national game in England and Australia was much more rapid than an American would imagine. The science of pitching is being mastered, and pitchers with effective curves and command of the ball are developing in Australia and the mother country. The players, however, are mostly amateur and amateur historians. Australian as a rule, are more skilled than the English, because they possess more 'ginger.'

"In Australia they have the same disputes with the umpire, but in England players look upon the umpire as the indicator of an almost infallible and seldom dispute his decisions. Perhaps this difference in the manner of treating the umpire may be regarded as an argument in favor of kicking tooths.

"Englishmen who never dispute or question a decision are not very numerous in their playing, while the Australian, with his declare to win, throws more 'ginger' into his work and lays his grievance before the umpire at every opportunity. I am not in favor of squabbles, yet I have noticed that some of the most exciting games were those in which squabbling was rampant and every inch of ground disputed, with the umpire constantly under fire."

HEIRS ARE GIVEN $500.

Damages Awarded for the Death of Newspaper Man.

The heirs of Willie Ghio, the little newsboy, killed near the Peace Monument, by being run over by a Washington and Georgetown railroad car, were this morning awarded $500 damages by a jury which was in session from Tuesday afternoon until last night.

Judge McComas received the sealed verdict this morning, and it was read by Clerk Downes. It is an unusual occurrence for a jury to deliberate more than a few hours in a railroad damage suit, and had it not been for the peculiar circumstances in this case, a verdict would have been easily reached. A former jury awarded the plaintiff $2,000, but the verdict was set aside, and the court granted a new trial.

Judge McComas instructed the jury this time that if they decided that Willie Ghio was killed through the negligence of any employee of the company, they should determine the damages only as to the amount
sentimental value.

honorable.

COCAINE FIEND AT FIFTEEN

Chicago Boy Wrecked Physically and Morally by It.

Forged Orders to Obtain the Drug.
Later On He Tapped His Employer's Till.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Max Otte, aged fifteen, is a wreck from the use of cocaine.
He learned to like the drug while using a cathartic cure, and soon became a slave to it. Max was employed as a shop and errand boy at the Kane pharmacy, Chicago, avenue and Pine street.

He was such a bright and active lad that the proprietor, C. C. Cook, trusted him implicitly. He used to make entries on the order book, with some lines of stock ran out, and thereupon the possibility of which he soon began to take advantage.

About three months ago Max took a cold.
He was almost down sick for a time; but presently his cough passed away, and there was no evidence of the cold remaining.
Still the boy was not himself again.

His employers often found him asleep in the back room of the pharmacy, and noticed that he was dull and listless all the time.

One day Mr. Cook noticed that the order-book contained an unusual call for new supplies of a certain cathartic cure which he had not been particularly partial to, on account of its containing a dangerous proportion of cocaine. He questioned his clerk and Max about it, and the latter said he had been using it for himself.

The druggist told him it was dangerous, and advised him to let it alone. A few days later he spoke of it again, but Max told him he had stopped using it. Mr.
Cook then paid no more attention to the matter until it came up in a new startling form, when he discovered that the lad had forged orders for this particular cocaine cathartic remedy to the extent of dozens of bottles.

On October 14 Mr. Cook sent the boy to the wholesale drug house of Fuller & Fuller for a lot of goods. Max brought back the goods, but not the bill. His employer telephoned for them, and when they arrived there came also a bill for a dozen and a half of the cathartic cure.

Max was at once taken to task, and when his employer first spoke to him about the dangerous proportion of cocaine, he knew he could order no more of it for the general stock. Then he began to go to other North Side drug stores for it. He used Mr. Cook's cards, with the name of the remedy written on the back, but he always paid cash. It was found that he had stolen from his employer, who at last discharged him, but, pitying the lad's condition, refused to prosecute.

WASHINGTON HARBOR SIGNALS.

Weather Bureau Arranges for the Protection of Shipping Here.

The chief of the Weather Bureau has arranged for the display of wind signals at the Washington harbor to announce the expected occurrence of winds liable to cause injury to shipping at this port or on the Potomac River or Chesapeake Bay.

Three kinds of signals will be displayed—viz., hurricane, storm and information. The hurricane signal consists of two square red flags, with black centers, displayed one above the other, and indicates the expected approach of a tropical hurricane or of a storm in which the wind is expected to attain hurricane force.

The storm signal consists of one square red flag, with black center, and a red or white pennant above or below it, to indicate the expected direction of the wind, and is a forecast of winds of sufficient force to cause considerable damage to shipping.

Under existing regulations, the signal consisting of two red flags, with black centers, indicates the approach of a tropical hurricane or of a storm in which the wind is expected to attain hurricane force.

The information signal consists of a red pennant displayed alone, and as used at this port will be a notice of a storm expected on the lower Chesapeake Bay. The flags will be displayed from the flagstaff on the office of the Norfolk and Washington Steamship Company at the foot of Seventh street.

When the flags are displayed bulletins will be posted near the entrance to the office, giving the location and probable movement of the storm and the expected force and direction of the wind. Cards containing illustrations and explanations of the signals may be had at the Weather Bureau, and at the office of the Norfolk and Washington Steamship Company.

SHOT DOWN AN INCLINE.

Two Persons Seriously Injured Near Ogden, Utah.

Ogden, Utah, Oct. 22.—Yesterday afternoon a party of city and county officers of Salt Lake were invited to Ogden City to inspect the work of the Pioneer Electric Power Company.

The party proceeded up the mountain side. Up the canyon there is a cable tramway, and two parties of eleven made the trip up the 300-foot incline (45 degrees) on the car.

One party returned safely, but on the last trip, when the car was about 200 feet from the bottom of the incline, the brake was broken, and the car sped wildly to the bottom of the incline.

The track and cable cross the Ogden river at the bottom, and as the car crossed the river Mr. Clem Schraun, a prominent Ogden citizen, was thrown out and fell twenty feet on to the rocks below.

The car then struck the post at the end of the incline, and was thrown back again over the river, where Constable Jones, over the river, was thrown out. Two others of the party were hurt slightly, but the others were only stunned. Several of Mr.
Schraun's ribs are broken, and he is injured internally.

Four Leaville Rioters Arrested.
Leaville, Colo., Oct. 22.—Eben Cosley, John Gray, John H. Mullin and John Brennan have been arrested, and a warrant is out for another man who has not yet been located. The arrests are the results of the grand jury's investigation of the Colorado riot at Leaville. A warrant is out for the arrest of a man who is charged with the deliberate murder of Jerry O'Keefe, a city fireman, who was shot down while performing his duty on the night of the Colorado fire.

MAY CONTROL THE SENATE

Republicans Are Becoming More Hopeful Every Day.

IT WILL BE A CLOSE SHAVE

In This Case a Tariff Bill Could Be Passed According to Major McKin-ley's Views—How the Change Is Figured Out—The States Are Given.

The Republicans are picking up hope, and in view of the steady rise of the accrued vote, according to their view, they will be able to command a clear majority in the Senate for the passage of a tariff bill.

The present Senate stands nominally 44 Republicans, 29 Democrats and 6 Populists. The problem would be simple enough for the Republicans if it involved only adding one or two Senatorial seats to the number they now claim. The difficulty is that several Senators counted as Republicans are out for Bryan, and are not likely to act in future in Republican causes or in support of Republican measures.

GAINS ALREADY MADE.

Taking the old figures as a basis of calculation, the Republicans have already made gains in two States by choosing Foraker in Ohio and Wellington in Maryland as the successors of Brice and Gibson in the Senate which meets next March.

The Republicans are substantially certain to choose Senators in New York and Wisconsin as successors to Hill and Vilas.
These gains alone would carry their strength up to 48, and give them a majority of 6, if it were not for the silver platform.

The Republicans hope to gain also the seats now held by Kyle, of South Dakota; Palmer, of Illinois; Peffer, of Kansas; and Voorhees, of Indiana. Their advisers lead them to believe that they will carry all these States except Kansas. The fight there is extremely close, and nothing but the brilliancy of Senator Ingalls, with his occasional concession to silver, gives the Republicans any chance of winning.

Counting out all these seats but Kansas for the Republicans would raise their nominal strength to fifty-one. They would be a majority of twelve, if the silver Senators could be counted upon. But Teller, of Colorado; Dubois, of Idaho; Pettigrew, of South Dakota; Cannon, of Utah; Mantle, of Montana, and Squire, of Washington, are opponents for Bryan and free silver. Their loss reduces the Republican strength to forty-five, which is just half the Senate.

OTHER CHANCES.

There are two other chances for electing Republican Senators in Delaware and Kentucky. A Republican is likely to be chosen in Delaware, which would give the Republicans a majority in the Senate without appealing to the Vice President. Kentucky is also a chance, and it is not unlikely that Secretary Carlisle or some other sound money Democrat will take the seat now held by Senator Blackburn; but this would not mean a gain for a protective tariff bill.

The existence of a safe and sound majority in the Senate will probably compel an extra session of Congress early next spring. Some pressure is likely to be brought to bear upon the new administration, if it is headed by Major McKinley, not to disturb business interests upon the threshold of a revival by opposing the tariff bill.

The absence of a majority in the Senate and the restoration of the gold reserve might be accepted as excuses for postponing the tariff until the regular session of Congress in December.

HER ASSAULT IDENTIFIED.

Mrs. Thomas F. Johnson's Dramatic Recognition of Edward Brown.

West Chester, Pa., Oct. 22.—Mrs. Thomas F. Johnson, on whom a brutal assault was perpetrated by a colored man while returning to her home, at Rock Run, near Coatesville, Friday night, has possibly recovered from the effects of a serious stroke and injuries which she sustained, and was brought to West Chester yesterday to identify the man accused of the crime.

Arrangements had been made by Magistrate Myer for the holding of the hearing in the receiving cell at the Chester county prison, and District Attorney Baldwin and J. F. Hulse appeared as counsel for the prosecution.

"That's the brute who attacked me!" exclaimed Mrs. Johnson, breaking into tears from excitement, as the bulky prisoner was ushered into her presence by Keeper James.

"Are you positive?" queried the district attorney.
